inserting information entries from the first and second data sets into the first intermediate data set.

40
38. (New) The method of claim 39 wherein the step of selectively inserting information entries comprises inserting information entries that overlap with one another, if the overlapping information entries have not been designated as being exclusive.

41
39. (New) The method of claim 38 further comprising selectively copying reconciled information from the at least one intermediate data set into the first data set and selectively copying reconciled information from the at least one intermediate data set into the second data set.

42
40. (New) The method of claim 41 wherein the reconciling step comprises selectively copying information from the first data set into the at least one intermediate data set and selectively copying information from the second data set into the at least one intermediate data set.

Remarks

The claims are drawn solely from the subject matter of the application as filed. Accordingly, it is respectfully submitted that no new matter has been an added. If for any reason the Examiner feels that a telephone conference would in any way expedite prosecution of the subject application, the Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned at (831) 461-5962.

Respectfully submitted,

Date: December 18, 1998

C. George Yu
Reg. No. 43,301

Starfish Software, Inc.
Legal Dept.
1700 Green Hills Road
Scotts Valley, CA 95066
(831) 461-5962
(831) 461-5900 FAX

SF/0006.02